KOBER QUITS OVER GALLINGER COSTS

Washington Post, Dr. Kober declared that the investigation failed to show there was a lack of efficiency at the hospital "because of inadequate medical service."

"I feel constrained to oppose the approval of the supplementary esti-mate," he added, "until it could be shown by competent experts that the items were necessary for the benefit of afflicted humanity."

John Joy Edson, elderly chairman of the board of welfare, said he had not read Kober's letter and could not comment on it. When his attention was called to the apparent criticism of the comparatively high operating costs of the hospital.

Mr. Edson said that he would have to study the matter before he could make public comment, or come to a decision whether the criticism merited any reply or action by the board.

Mrs. Cumming apparently was willing to diacuss the situation but not for quotation, declaring that "I'd rather not say a word."

Frederick W. W. W. Millan, vice chairman of the special committee which investigated conditions at Gallinger Hospital recently, said "no comment whatever."

Mrs. Emmett J. Scott said that she felt sure that George & Wilson, director of public welfare, would give out all the facts, but that she personally preferred to make no comment beyond an expression of her deep regret, at the retirement of Dr. Köber.

Food Ship Proposal Brings Divergent Reaction From Europe.

GERMANY FAVORS PLAN

London, Nov. 12 (A.P.).-The Armistice Day speech of President Hooyer and particularly its suggestion that food ships be granted the same immunities as hospital supplies in war time interested Europe from one end to the other today but provoked wirely divergent reactions.

The heartlest reception was immediately forthcoming in Germany.
England, as a whole, appeared to regard its as another contribution toward world peace but saw some difficulties still remaining. Althoughthe text of the speech was printed strongly critical of the arguments of the President.

The Rome Daily Tevere professed to find the ideas of Mr. Hoover entirely contrary to British traditions but admirably serving American expansionist interests.

"The reality proves that the most formidable antagonism between the two powerful imperialisms. English and American, is ever alive and perhaps insurpable."

It remarked that the United States remained hostile to the League of Nations, preferring the Kellogg pact, which it said not only left them free to choose the way suiting them best. but left the arbiters free no matter which it and no vary suiting them best, but left the arbiters free no matter what the situation.

President and Bodenhamer Paint Contrasting Picture of Same Subject; Chief Executive Usually Whole Show in His Public Appearances.

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

Hoover's sharing of the platdent Hoover's sharing of the platform with a rival speaker at the American Legion exercises Monday is to mark a departure from the practice that has heretofore been followed in the public appearances of the Nation's Chief Executive. It was an unusual spectacle at the Washington Auditorium when following the President's peace speech, the legion's national commander, Maj. O. L. Bodenhamer, arose and spoke just as long, if not longer, in that stirring legion national defense vein. There was no mistaking the sharp conflict in the innermost thoughts of the two men. It was apparent to any one who heard them in the auditorium or over the radio.

The legion is for national defense over the radio.

The legion is for national defense and is wary of any arms limitation moves, and, by the way, is, of course,

President.

But in behalf of Bodenhamer, it is President.

But in behalf of Bodenhamer, it is pointed out that the night of all nights was the American Legion's night, that Armistice Day is the American Legion's day, that it gave this show.

Agreeing that, of course, the President can get a Nation-wide audience any time, legion officials pointed out that on this particular occasion it rigged up 11,000 legion posts for him as an audience auxiliary to that which listens in on the radio ordinarily. And by so doing it made it possible for him to bring his message right into the camp of the enemy, so to speak.

They point out that the President could not have been surprised at Bodenhamer's prominence on the program because his predecessor, Col. Paul V. McNutt, occupied a similar prominence with former President Coolidge on last Armistice Night. There was not the clash, however, between Coolidge and McNutt that there was between Hoover and Bodenhamer, and for that reason the incident passed unnoticed.

No Surprise to Hoover.

General Seasions today with a "blue ribbon" panel of 150 taleamen, judge, prosecutors, defendant and counsel and some 80 reporters in attendance, but was soon adjourned until November 18, when the State announced one of its important witnesses was ill in a Milwaukee hospital.

If the ailing witness, Alvin C. Thomas, better known as "Titanic" Thompson, because of the alleged large way in which he plays at games of chanes, is not present Monday, the State will ask further delay.

Joab H. Banton, district attorney, said late-today such action would be taken if Thomas was not on hand, as he considered Thomas' testimony "very material," since Dr. William J. Murphy, of Milwaukee, wired Mr. Banton yesterday that his patient was suffering from pleurisy and "in all probability will be confined from ten to twelve days," it seemed likely that Thomas will not be here Monday.

James D. C. Murray, defense counsel, was said today to have been willing to concede Thomas' testimony to the State, as he believes the big gambler from the wide open spaces will testify to nothing important, but was advised by Assistant District Attorney George M. action "would be very detrimental" to his client.

Thomas, so the police story goes, was sitting in at the high spade game some two weeks before Rothstein was shot, where Rothstein loet some $300,000 to McManus and others. The State has intimated that the mctive for the shooting, which it charges was done by McManus, lies in Rothstein's alleged repudiation of these gambling debts on the grounds that he had been cheated.

Thomas is under $10,000 ball as a material witness. The doctor's telegram said he had "pleurisy with effusions" which sometimes takes months to cure.

The pursuit continued for 2 miles through Brooklyn streets, the police and Small exchanging shots intermittently. Intercepted by Patrolman Harold Fisher, Small jumped from the car and fired at the patrolman, aiming unsteadily. A woman was heard to scream, and a crowd of women shoppers saw Mrs. Sumner fall. She was dead when an ambulance surgeon arrived.

Patrolman Fisher fired two shots at Small and the robber dropped.

Small, characterized as the "master mind' of a gang of holdup men specializing in diamond robberies, was sent to Auburn Prison after a series of "big time" robberies. He was sentenced by Judge Allen to serve twelve years on his plea of guilty to an indictment charging robbery in the second degree.

Truck Kills Girl: Driver Is Beaten

Women Pummel Man Who Runs Down Pair on Sidewalk.

New York, Nov. 12 (A.P.).—Two hundred women today threatened the driver of an automobile which had run down two little girls in Brooklyn, causing injuries from which one of them died.

The two girls, Anna Horowitz and Corrine Singer, were on the sidewalk throwing kisses to Corrine's mother in an apartment window above when the car of Joachim Lieberman, out of control, jumped the curb and ran into them.

The screams of other children brought 200 women pouring from adjacent apartment houses. Shrieking "murdrer" at Lieberman they dragged him from his wrecked machine and were kicking and pummeling him when a policeman came on the scene. Drawing his revolver the officer forced the women back and took his prisoner to a police station, where he was held on a charge of homicide.

ferences begun yesterday by various group leaders.

The only faction that appeared opposed to the move was the Republican independents, who will meet today in an effort to reach a decision.

Senater Simmons, of North Carolins, who, as ranking minority member of the tariff-framing finance committee, speaking for his party on this issue, said he favored adjourning November 23 to give senators a little time to attend to personal business and to rest up for the winter session. Chairman Smoot, of the committee, spokesman for the Republican regulars on the tariff, acquiesced and said if the prevailing sentiment seemed to be for an adjournment a week before Thanksgiving he would make a motion himself to end the special session November 21 or 23.

Borah Says Time Wasted.

Senator Borah, of Idaho, a leader of the Republican independent group, which is rewriting the tariff along with a majority of Democrats, said a week was a long time to waste with the tariff bill in its present stage, but indicated there probably would be no serious objection to the early adjournment if it was moved on personal rather than political grounds. He said the Western Republicans would meet today to attempt to agree on the adjournment question.

Smoot predicted that with such an adjournment the Senate could resume consideration of the tariff after disposition of the Vare case, the first order of business for the December session, and with the coalition in control, pass the bill before Christmas.

Wood Schedule Today.

Reaching the wood schedule after an understanding was made to take up the watch and clock duties of the metals group today, Senators Jones, acting Republican leader, and Dill, a Democrat, both of Washington, led an assault on the finance committee's action in knocking out the 25 percent ad valorem duty on shingles proposed by the House and restoring them to the free list where they have been since 1913.

A vote on this item, which has figured prominently throughout the tariff hearings and floor debates, was deferred until today when Senator Walsh (Democrat); Massachusetts, will speak. He and Senator Thomas, of Oklahoma, are in charge of the wood schedule for the Democrats, both being members of the finance committee.

NEGRO CANDIDATES PLANNED BY ARNOLD

Southern Tariff Group Agent Called Sponsor of Idea in Senate Inquiry.

GRUNDY TO TALK TODAY

(Associated Press.)

Promotion of a pian to put Negro candidates in the race for Congress in the North as Democrats in order "to hold in line" the Southern States which went for Herbert Hoover in the last election was attributed to J. A. Arnold, manager of the Southern Tariff Association, yesterday by the Senate lobby committee.

Examined for his eventh day by the committee, Arnold acknowledged correspondence and documents which disclosed the program for "blackening the Democratic party." The correspondence said Arnold had taken the proposal up with Vice President Curtis, who, it added, referred the scheme slong to President Hoover.

Again accused by Chairman Caraway of the lobby committee of having a "bad case of failing memory." Arnold, after some hesitation, acknowledged his handwriting on some of the mass of additional correspondence produced.

A letter from Arnold to Muse was read by Chairman Caraway, of the lobby committee, which said Arnold went "with the darkey today to see Vice President Curtis, and he thought well of our Negro congressman idea, but said it was a matter that should be taken up with Mr. Hoover about it." The "darkey" was not identified.

"Curtis said he thought of getting a better grade of Negroes to lead in the South," the letter continued, "but I told him that would not be the complete remedy.

New York, Nov. 12 (A.P.).—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, his head bowed and his face deeply lined with sorrow, followed to Calvary Cemetery today the body of his pophoed chum and friend of his manhood years. "Jim" Riordan.

The former governor's entire family, including the husbands and wives of his married sons and daughters, and the secretary who served him during the years at Albany, attended the funeral of James J. Riordan, banker, who in the refuge of his quiet study in a sedate, old-fashloned house just off lower Fifth avenue shot himself last Friday afternoon.

There, too, among the honorary pallbearers in the aisle in St. Bernger's Roman Catholic Church—the church in which Riordan was confirmed and married, and in which his wife's funeral was held four years ago—were the other members of the famous "golf cabinet," William F. Kenny and John J. Raskob and William H. Todd, who in recent years has alternated as fourth in the quartet. A diood-stained automobile, round to have been stolen in Kanass City, was located near the spot where Schoonover apparently had been attacked. It contained several articles of women's apparel. Police expressed the belief that the soldier may have been slashed in a fight over a woman. His home was in Villisca, Lowa.

the judges of the District Supreme Court and with District Attorney Rover and Commissioner Turnage.

Following these conferences among the jurists, it is expected that a standard set of regulations to govern bail bonding in all jurisdictions of the District will be laid down for the bondsmen, who have expressed a desire to cooperate with the courts at the basic purpose for organization of their association.

One of the important details, where uniformity is sought, is in the matter of financial responsibility of professional bondsmen. For the past five years all bondsmen have been required to file in Police Court every three months a detailed statement, sworn under oath, of their assets and liabilities, from which the assets and liabilities, from which the net sum for which they are permitted to underwrite bonds is determined on a basis of 200 per cent of the assessed valuation of their unencumbered property.

HOLDS CATHOLICS LOYAL

Mobile, Ais., Nov. 12 (A.P.).—
Archbishop M. J. Curley, of Baltimore, Md., who is taking part in the centennial celebration of the Catholic Diocese of Mobile, in an address denied what he said were charges that Pope Pius XI, is attempting to interfere in American internal affairs.
Declaring Pope Pius holds the country in great esteem and affection, the archbishop said: "And yet the name of this man, who holds such love and admiration for this country, became a byword in 1928—a man abused and reviled, who is supposed to have dreadful designs on this country, who is preparing to raise a navy to come over here and take the White House at Washington.

"We hear such charges in the halls of our national congress, right in my own diocese, but I don't think such revilers represent the people of America. Or of Alabama Protestants or ica or of Alabama. Protestants or Jews."

Answering what he described as the charge that the allegiance of Catholics to the Pope interferes with their loyalty to country. Archbishop Curley declared allegiance to Pope Pius is "a spiritual allegiance, while that to our country is natriotic lovally."

FEEDING THE ENEMY.

It is too early to gauge the reaction which will greet President Hoover's proposal that nations agree to immunize food ships from interference in time of war. Any suggestion to "humanize" war necessarily has a strong sentimental appeal, despite its incongruity. No particular harm is done by planning in edvance to use the utmost kindness and benevolence in killing the enemy or exterminating an enemy people, and the uggestion to keep the enemy supplied with food is at least a new idea.

Comment on the proposal was reserved among leaders of the Senate, and divergence of view is reflected in ine newspapers. The British press apparently does not warm up to this part of the President's speech, though there 's general satisfaction that discussion of belligerent rights has been dropped in connection with the naval conference. The Daily Telegraph says the proposition to provide the enemy with ood is revolutionary, while the Daily News regards all attempts to humanze war as "pitiful illusions."

But the British government's reacon is not yet divulged, and will be waited with marked interest. Prime Minister MacDonald has already spoken of the food ship proposal in recounting his conversations with President Hoover. It goes without saying that the British premier was not averse to seeing the proposition put upon the anvil of public debate, and that he hopes the idea will promote America's acceptance of League of Nations domination.

There are advance indications of the program which Britain will follow, and Arthur Henderson, the British foreign secretary, gave an inkling in the Armistice Day speech which he made in Pittsburgh. This it should do. London. Referring to the Kellogg pact, he said:

I believe if we organize peace on constructive lines we can make the pact as real to the nations of the world as the law against assault and murder is real to the peaceful citizens of this country.

This dovetails with the statement which Mr. MacDonald made prior to his election, when he said that the old question of freedom of the seas would solve itself as a result of the Kellogg pact, and that there would be no neutrals in the "public" wars authorized by the pact-that is, wars fought by the League of Nations. He added:

The question now is, how are nations to cooperate in the police duty of suppressing private war and of limiting its extension.

The humanitarian proposal to immunize food ships from interference in war would be in harmony with the Mac-Donald plan, because there can be no war excepting "public" war ordered by the League of Nations against a recalcitrant nation. With all nations waging combined war by way of "police duty," there would be no neutrals. Would the league permit food to go to the offending nation? Ah, that is another story.

From the British standpoint, there is no inconsistency in assuring the world that the Kellogg pact has done away with war, while preparing rules and regulations for the next war. This next war, of course, will be under the direction and control of the League of Nations.

The situation reverts back to where it was at the time the league covenant was before the United States Senate. America then was asked to become part of the European alliance to enforce peace by military measures. Now the British are adroitly seeking to bring America to the point of joining forces for the intensive organization of the newly with the League of Nations through industrialized South. The importance which the White House.

the medium of the Kellogg pact. It is slow and tedious task, but Mr. Mac-Donald is a patient and persistent man.

NO. THANK YOU.

Stimulated by a generous allotment of votes in the New York mayoralty campaign, the Socialist party has launched a new movement to consolidate all progressive and independent political groups. The Socialists interpret the gains of Norman Thomas, who is the stock candidate of the party for all positions of distinction, as a "genuine-political awakening." They have set out to create a party "devoted to the interests of the people. a party that will bring into American political life something of the spirit and the program of the British Labor party."

It is no credit to the political acumen of the Socialists that they attribute the show ing made by Mr. Thomas in the New York election to a "genuine political awakening." It is apparent to all disinterested observers that the Thomas votes were cast in protess against the two leading candidates. When Mr. Thomas ran for President last fall there was nothing to indicate a political swing toward socialism, and the situation since then has not changed. Next year when the Socialists have no fortunate mayoralty contest to cheer them on they will no doubt realize the futility of their efforts.

Mr. Thomas' appeal for a new political or ganization imbued with "the spirit and program of the British Labor party" will make no progress in America. Organized labor in this country is opposed to socialism and has remained nonpolitical. The hope of creating an American labor party is vain. The Socialists realize that they will not be able to atract a labor following, and have invited the cooperation of all "groups accepting a program of progressive and independent politi-The very fact that a conglomeration of radicals is being invited to participate in the movement spells its doom.

TRIFLING WITH RAILROADS.

Acquisition of the Pittsburgh & West Virginia Railroad by the Pennroad Corporation, a subsidiary of the Pennsylvania Railroad, will lead to a showdown as to the Interstate Commerce Commission's authority with respect to railroad-controlled holding companies of this type. Inasmuch, however, as the mere factor of actual physicial control will stand in the Pennsylvania's favor when the time arrives to assign the road to one of the proposed trunk systems, it is to be regretted that the commission has not some time since established whether or not it has authority over holding companies. Physical possession of properties is bound to be brought forward in behalf of contesting parties in the consolidation project and there is an impression, seemingly well grounded, that the Pennroad's acquisition of the Pittsburgh & West Virginia was carried through at this time with such advantage in view.

Because of the imminence of publication of the commission's tentative plan for the consolidation of roads operating in the Eastern territory, and because the factor of physical possession is of such importance, it is not easy to understand why the commission gave the Nickel Plate authority to purchase controlling interest in the Wheeling & Lake Erie, subject to a proviso that actual control should not be taken over unless such per mission were granted in a subsequent ruling, and why its examiner should have recommended approval of the application of the Baltimore & Ohio to acquire the Buffalo. Rochester & Pittsburgh, subject to a similar proviso. Both cases parallel in practical éffect the acquisition by the Pennroad Corporation of the Pittsburgh & West Virginia.

The commission should not make a gift with one hand and draw it back with the other. The railroads are left in doubt as to their rights.

The damage is done in connection with the Pennroad and the Nickel Plate purchases The commission has it in its power to reject the joker in the examiner's recommendation with respect to the Buffalo, Rochester &

ENLIST IN THE RED CROSS.

Each year at this time the American Red Cross conducts its annual roll call for the purpose of renewing old memberships and recruiting new members. The goal for the District chapter is 40,000 members Thanksgiving Day.

The Nation turns instinctively to the Red cross whenever and wherever disaster strikes. Generally it is among the first on the scene ministering to the stricken, giving encour agement to the survivors and marshaling the forces of relief. But the Red Cross is not inactive between times of emergency It assists thousands of service and former service men and their families. Its volunteer workers produce millions of bandages, surgical dressings and garments. Under its auspices nurses visit periodically American homes where their services are needed, in addition to which the organization annually gives instruction to thousands in matters of health, hygiene, nutrition, first-aid and life saving.

It is to obtain funds to prosecute these routine labors of the Red Cross that the annual roll call is held. Of every membership contribution, be it for $1 or $100, 50 cents goes to the national association, the balance being retained by the local chapter for use in the community. Washington should respond generously to the appeal now being made by the "Greatest Mother in the World" in its thirteenth annual roll call.

ORGANIZING SOUTHERN WORKERS.

The Gastonia decision by no means settled labor's difficulties in the South. Forces are still operating which, on one hand, work for its ruthless exploitation and on the other or its perversion to the cause of commu nism. The Gastonia affair was only a symptom of the diseased condition that permeates the body of Southern labor. So long as it remains unorganized, some employers will abuse it, and so long as such conditions exist, Southern labor will be easy prey of communism. There is need, in the South, for the steadying hand and the constructive service of the American Federation of Labor. At its convention in Toronto last month the federation adopted a resolution calling federation officials attach to this project is proved by the promptness with which they have started work. This week representatives of the 105 national and international affiliated unions will meet in Washington to organize a campaign designed to revolutionise industrial conditions in the South. the first of the year it is expected that the campaign will be in full swing.

The federation looks upon the Southern situation as threatening the very existence of organized labor. This may be an exaggeration, but even that part of the public shat is not closely identified with organized labor recognizes that the growth of communism constitutes a threat against the body politic. The federation can do a great service for the public as well as for Southern workers by establishing an entente cordiale between employers and employes, such as prevailt elsewhere in this country.

NO SUGAR SUBSIDY.

The Senate is scheduled to reach this week the most controversial rate in the entire tariff bill-that on sugar. The coming fight on the floor of the Senate will be particularly interesting because leadership in tariff matters has been conceded to the Democraticinsurgent coalition. Sugar offers an enigme to the coalition. In its campaign of boosting agricultural rates and lowering industrial duties will the coalition sponsor a higher sugar tariff? Sugar is an agricultural product and several States represented by the irregulars are directly interested in protection for the domestic industry. Yet it is generally agreed that the tariff bill will be judged largely by the action taken on sugar and the coalition is not anxious to support high tariff bill.

It is reported that the insurgent group has adopted Mr. Borah's scheme to increase protection of the domestic industry and at the same time maintain the existing rate. This would be done by means of a bounty. The present rate of $1.76 per hundred pounds, effective against Cuba, would be maintained and a bounty of 44 cents would be paid American producers from duties collected from Cuba. This proposed bounty represents the difference between the existing duty and that proposed by the finance committee. It is a scheme to provide relief to the domestic industry without raising the price of sugar, but at the expense of the Government.

If this report is true the attempt of the coalition to make a second raid on the Treasury should be nipped in the bud. Any argument in favor of a bounty recognizes the need of the industry for greater protection and admits that protection by the regular method of levying a tariff would be unpopular To avoid the appearance of raising this controversial rate it is proposed to take money for support of the sugar industry from the taxpayer. But if revenue collected from sugar duties is taken to subsidize American sugar producers the Government must have more revenue from other sources. The people will not consent to pay higher taxes for this purpose.. No scheme which would set a precedent of Government subsidies for private industry would be tolerated by the House. The proposal is akin to the debenture outrage. It is an attempt to trick the public into believing that additional protection can be afforded without increasing the cost to consumers. The coalition should have learned before this time that subsidies and bounties are odious to the American people. If such a scheme is adopted by the Senate it will only drive another nail in the coffin that awaits the tariff bill.

DEMOCRATIC DREAMS

From the New York Times (Dem.).

The Republican party in the Senate is in bad way, and the Democrats are having their biennial dreams of power and glory. It is natural in the circumstances. Repre sentative Byrns, of Tennessee, chairman of the Democratic congressional committee, foresees recapture of the House by his party next year and equally good chances to take control of the Senate. Chairman Shouse, of the national executive committee, agrees with him that the trend is that way. Analogies between 1930 and 1922 are seen, and what happened to the Republican control of Congress in 1910 is also pointed out. The analogies are there, and control next year may be obtained. But there is an older analogy, and one more typical of what happens among quarreling Republicans. It goes back to the years 1920 and 1924, when the party warriors buried the hatchet just long enough to defeat the Democrats, and buried it shallow enough so that they could dig it up right after the election.

It is good Republican politics in the West to fight the Eastern stalwarts in Congress and hamper the program of a regular Re publican President. But it is bad politics in the West to bolt the national ticket. Senator Borah's course for twenty years is a perfect example of successful Republican insurgency, for the senator even supported Mr. Taft in 1912, when a bolt was not suicide, since it merely meant bolting to another Republican Col. Roosevelt. In 1920 he and Senator Johnson, of California, went storming about the platform committees, demanding concessions to their position on international affairs and the nomination for Senator Johnson. They got the platform concession—they always do They were denied the nomination-they always are. So in the campaign they were regulars, as they were in 1924 and 1928. In between, however, they and their Progressive associates gave the usual encouragement to the Democrats by smiting the regulars hip and thigh. The only exceptions to this Pro gressive method are found in Wisconsin, where the bolder tradition of the elder La Follette is still followed. Elsewhere the regular routine is steady insurgency against he party majority and the White House in Congress; successful demands for platform phrases at conventions; and then refuge under the broad wings of the party dove of

In such times as these come high Democratic hopes and posy Democratic claims Imbued with these bright illusions, the Democrats forsake their opportunity to make a party record and form coalitions with the insurgents against the regular Republicans. When election time comes they are promptly deserted by their allies, to be as promptly rejoined when a Republican sits safely in

You Can't Increase Milk Profits by Starving the Cow. By ROBERT QUILLEN

HIGH wages are paid by the allen consumer.

Thus the land where wages are high prospers at the expense of lands where wages are low.

To keep wages low is to keep a land backward. American workers are better paid than any others. Their general ous earnings are used to buy luxury, education, culture. Prosperity makes them more civilized, more intelligent, more efficient.

This greater efficiency enables them to capture foreign markets, and thus the money to provide their prosperity and develop their efficiency comes from lands that keep themselves poor and inefficient by paying low wages.

Wages in the South are the lowest in America, and for many years the South has been the poorest part of America.

The Southern employer hopes to increase his profits by keeping vages low, but economic laws don't work that way. A high wage s added to the selling price of a manufactured article; and when the article is sold to a distant consumer he provides the money to pay the wage and enrich the land where the article was made.

Workers who make an automobile are paid high wages and live in luxury. Their employer is not an altruist, but a shrewd business man. He adds their wage to the price of the car. And when the car is sold to a Southern planter, the wage is collected. The wealth created by poor labor and poor soil in a poor section is used to pay high wages in a rich section.

Known as the "father of part-time education for juvenile workers." Dr. Small is head of the division of the Massachusetts Department of Education which spends $4,000,000 annually on adult and vocational education. He came into prominence several years ago when as superintendent of achools in Beverley, Mass., he organized cooperative education groups there. His first project was a weekabout program for young employes of the United Shoe Machinery Co. On alternating weeks the mill workers were provided with special schools, while working the remainder of the time to maintain themselves.

Farm relief and its effects on the consumer will be discussed by Dr. Wolfe, who is a former professor of agronomy at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and is considered an authority on rural life problems.

Miss Robertson will present an outline of home economics education and will tell "what the working man ought to expect from a program in home economics."

as a freight car—and oco-Gas helps keep it rolling along

THE Davidson Transfer & Storage Co., 1 of Baltimore, operates some of the largest and most modern moving vans in the country-some of them big enough to transport the complete furnishing of two six-room houses.

The operation of these huge vans requires careful check on the mileage obtained from each gallon of gasoline-and on that basis, AMOCO-GAS is the choice of the Davidson organization.

A recent letter from the Davidson Transfer & Storage Co. expresses their opinion of the worth of AMOCO-GAS.

"It is indeed gratifying to be able to secure AMOCO for our vans across the Alleghenies. Drivers are in a happier frame of mind when their tanks contain your product.

"We recently had occasion to send one of our largest trailer vans across the country from Westchester, N.Y., to Indianapolis, Ind. This van when loaded can carry two completely furnished homes; that is, furniture out of two sixroom houses.

"This unit is as large as a freight car and is equipped with giant pneumatic tires. It is, we believe, the most modern moving van in America. Needless to tell you, whenever it is possible its tanks are always filled with AMOCO."

On big vans and on the family car--the way to economy begins at the AMOCO-GAS

Society's Eye Is Fixed Now On Roll Call

Debutantes Will Try to Get Memberships at Navy Yard.

By JEAN ELIOT.

ITH the annual roll call in progress, the Red Cross will be in the foreground of the picture through the next few Miss Mabel Boardman, secretary of the American National Red Cross, is one of the corps of prominent women who have enrolled as speakers in order to stimulate interest in this organization's great annual appeal for funds. And she is the person in whom, to us in Washington, the Red Cross is personified.

There is justification for this since Miss Boardman has devoted her life to Red Cross work for many years, and since she was largely responsible for the reorganization a good many years ago which put the American Red Cross since she was largely responsible for the reorganization a good many years ago which put the American Red Cross on the international map with the President of the United States as its official head.

One of the picturesque features of the roll call in Washington has slways been the boarding of the President's yacht, the Mayflower, by a debutante group who polled the officers and crew, from the "captain bold" to the "boe'un tight, the midshipmite and the crew of the captain's gig." With the Mayflower up at auction, this cesemony has, of course, gone into the discard. But instead the debutantes' committee will visit the Washington Navy Yard this morning to call the roll of those on duty there.

In the absence of Mrs. John Allan Dougherty, who for years has organized the debutantes' roll call committee, but who is now in Chins inaugurating a program of child welfare work, Mrs. John Childress has the group in charge, and her daughter, Miss Adalt Childress, is its chairman. Others serving on this committee, debutantes of this season and last, are Miss Gertrude Lamont, daughter of the Secretary of Commerce, and Mrs. Lamont; Miss Marion Jardine, Miss Faith Phillips, Miss Laura Tuckerman, Miss Loranda Prochnik, Miss Faith Phillips, Miss Laura Tuckerman, Miss Loranda Prochnik, Miss Emiscah Gale Davis and Miss Nancy James Adams.

In explaining Red Cross activities and the needs of the organization, Miss Boardman calls attention to the fact that the organization in Washington is not affiliated with the Community Chest. The reason is that it is not a community service but one of national – nay, international — scope, and its funds must be available in case of emergency without recourse to local groups.

Date of Wedding Is Set Tentatively For December 14.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bennett Sher-wood have announced from Geneva, N. Y., the engagement of their daugh-ter, Miss Elizabeth Sherwood, to Mr. Frederick Roberts Rinehart, of New rederiek Roberts Rinehart, of New York. The news has special interest here, as Mr. Rinehart is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Rinehart. The date of the wedding has been tentatively set for December 14. With this marriage the last of the tito of Rinehart boys will join the ranks of the benedicts. Mr. Alan Rinehart's wife was Miss Gratia Houghton and Mr. Stanley Rinehart, Jr., is married to the former Miss Mary Doran. Mrs. Alan Rinehart is well known and well liked in Washington, having made her debut here. She is the daughter of Mrs. Arthur Amory Roughton and the late Mr. Houghton, and a niece of Mr. Alanson B. Houghton, and a niece of Mr. Alanson B. Houghton, former United States Ambassador to France.

All three of the Rinehart boys are in the publishing business, although none has so far followed in the footsteps of their mother, Mary Roberts Rinehart, as to have produced a novel or a play. Mr. Prederick Rinehart is associated with the recently organized publishing firm of Farrar & Rinehart, of which his brother Mr. Stanley Rinehart, Ir., is president. Actor Is Cleared In Death of Wife Poison in Vital Organs of Mrs. Somerset.

Angeles, Nov. 12 (A.P.).— Coroner Frank Nance announced this afternoon, following chemical analysis of the vital organs of Mrs. Shelby Worrall Somerset, wife of Pat Somerset, actor, that she had died of a heart ailment. The analyset had been ordered as the result of an autopsy indicating that poison might have caused the death in her sleep yesterday of the former Galveston, Tex., beauty.

The coroner reported this morning that a "pinkish condition of the abdominal organs, which frequently indicated poisoning, had been found during the autopsy. He said that "slight lesions" found in the heart had not been considered aufficient for a cause of death.

Chemical analysis, Nance said this afternoon, failed to reveal any trace of poison, and Mrs. Somerset's death officially was ascribed to heart disease.

Somerset, who reported finding his wife's lifeless body in her bed, had been sought for questioning by police, who explained they wanted to learn the details of the manner and condition in which he said he found the body. A search failed to locate the former English actor, who, the police said, apparently had gone into seclusion as the result of grief over his wife's death. Subsequent to the chemist's report the police indicated they would end their search for Somerset. Commission Is Urged to (Courtesy of Jane Regny, Paris,) Increase National Group From 40 to 50;

The Federal Radio Commission, just having vetoed the "chain limitation order," which was tucked away in mothballs for a long period of time, is now called upon to bring out and air another problem. Representatives of ten prominent broadcasting stations, accompanied by their congress yesterday with the request that the number of national cleared channels

Channels

Chief among these are Stations WTIC, Hartford, Conn.; WBAL, Baltimore; WAPI, Auburn, Ala., KRLD, Dallas, Tex.; WOC, Davenport, Iowa, and WHO, Des Moines, Iowa. The stations were represented before the commission by John V. L. Hogan, ra- ly Louis G. Caldwell, of Chicago, former chief counsel of the comm

The situation is slightly different in each case. However, the WTIC-WBAL problem aptly illustrates the broadcasters' position. Station WTIC tember with a new 80,000-watt transmitter and an entire new plant, making it one of the finest broadcasting stations in the country. Station WBAL has recently made several improvements in its transmission apparatus and is also a first-class station, now using 10,000 watts. When WTIC was ready to go on the air with its new apparatus the commission had ordered it to share time with WBAL. Since two such powerful stations could not operate on the same frequency, they reached an agreement whereby each station is on the air alternate days and nights. tember with a new 50,000-watt trans

This means that each city has only half the radio service these broadcasters are otherwise equipped and ready to give. The contention of both WTIC and WBAL is that they should be allowed to give Hartford and Baltimore, respectively, full-time radio service and that the Federal Radio Commission should provide additional cleared channels for that purpose. The other stations are in similar predicament.

purpose. The other stations are in similar predicament.
Following a statement of facts, Judge Ira E. Robinson, chairman of the commission said that no medium could ever convince him that more cleared channels are necessary for good radio reception and he then asked Judge Eugene O. Sykes, vice chairman, to conduct the hearing.
Mr. Caldwell suggested that more cleared channels might be obtained by making the separation between regional and local stations 7½ instead of 10 kilocycles. He also argued that the band from 550 to 1,190 kilocycles should be allocated to cleared channels, excepting for the Canadian stations, and that the band from 1,200 to 1,500 kilocycles should be allocated for regional and local stations, with the 7½ kilocycle separation only temporary.

All undeserving stations should be

All undeserving stations should be eliminated, Mr. Caldwell continued, then called the attention of the commission to the fact that in Europe the separation between stations is only 4½ kilocycles and is working out satisfactorily. Mr. Caldwell also reminded the commission that Canada is not satisfied with its allocation of cleared channels and said he believed his suggestion might help solve that situation.

fested this year of grace 1929.

Looking over our Dauville notebook, we come upon the ensemble worn by a smart Parisienne with black hair and green eyes. It consisted of a golden brown coat of rain-proof crepe de chine, lined with suede, with a fan-shaped collar and fat cuffs of soft leopard-skin. With this she wore a leopard-skin beret with a long silk tassel matching the coat.

We note also that her square suede tack and suede shoes exactly matched the lining of the coat, and that her georgette frock was of pale orange printed in modernistic designs of browns and yellow and tiny touches of black.

Not every woman could wear an outfit so striking, yet it was in such exquisite good taste on this particular Partisenne—who could wear it, and how—that the effect was perfect.

Another attractive rain-proof coat we noted was in pastel blue taffeta. came to the knees, and was belted about the waist, trench-coat style, with careful carelessness. This was worn with a white blouse and blue skirt, pleated at the sides and a bit longer than the coat.

For all the tweed and novelty woolens that are so popular in sports wear and tailored wear, capes or mochas in simple style are worn. Brown and coffee shades are first preferences.
Beige, pecan, cream and gray next.

For dressy afternoon costumes in slik and velvet, longer gloves of fine light gray kid are correct. The style of the gloves must be suited to the gown, especially in relation to the sleeve. Slip-ons in six-button lengths are especially favored and are worn . . . She has everything, simply everything! What in the world can you give her for christmas? Sh-h-h, send a stamped self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for the illustrated leaflet of the lovely boudoir dolls we have designed and tell you how to make, and then if you ha en't time to make one of these seven yourself, take it to a gift shop or to your dressmaker, and have her do so. The costumes are varied and authentic, the ideas are original and novel, and any way you look at it, I'm sure she will be pleased.

Miss Oimstead won her opportunity to enter on a motion picture career by winning a beauty contest sponsored by a newspaper in her home city over thousands of contestants.

Order No. 40, creating 40 cleared channels was a compromise, it worked out very well.

The time has now come, however, when 50 cleared channels and contended.

Further hearings will no doubt be held before the commission reaches a decision in the matter.

I led a Diamond which West won, that being our third trick; and West returned another Club which South won, extracted the trumps, placed the lead in dummy, and then finessed the Heart. My partner's King of Hearts winning the trick, the game was saved and Declarer characterized it as "the champion hard luck hand of the season."

Was it the Declarer's hard luck or his carelessness that lost his game? THE CORRECT PLAY.

THE CORRECT PLAY.

When playing to trick 2, Declarer should have known that he must lose that trick and that he also must lose to the Ace of Diamonds; consequently playing the way he did, the success or failure of his game depended upon the location of the adverse King of Hearts. It was unnecessary for him to take that risk. All that he had two passes South bid two Spades and Spade, West bid two Clubs, after two passes South bid two Spades and West ventured three Clubs; two more passes and then South bid three Spades which obtained the contract. If we had been playing Contract, a bold South would have bid four Spades, a more conservative one would have bid three; and North, on the strength of his King of Clubs, would have bid four.

In the play West properly led his Ace of Clubs and when my singleton Queen fell, was glad to continue with

Wives of Tomorrow

By FRANCES M'DONALD waked up somewhat, and guess what he asked me to do during the holidays, to go down and see the decorations of the market!!!! Ye gods! What a romp we'd had down there! That was quite too hilarious a diversion for me, so I refused, because the other man suggested a splendid play and supper afterward and I told him of the sacrifice I had made of going to be taken to market! The real man didn't show me uncooked foods; he treated me to the finest dinners, took me to feceptions, dances, introduced me to his mother, sisters and friends and made me feel as if I were worth something.

Well, after awhile when I became engaged to the real man I just asked the fireside pai to best it. Of course my mother said he was such a nice man!

HERE is a letter that we consider a gem, Mary is now happily married, but she was not always so. Once upon a time she was just one of those nice, kind girls who have hardy perennials for boy friends, and who have to sit hour after hour wondering how much longer they can hold out without becoming out and out violant.

without becoming out and out violent.

Read Mary's advice to girls who are best with "sitters" in the home. We just hope Mary writes some more letters like this! We especially, appreciate that festive idea of seeing the decorations on the market! Surely that has the ring of truth. It is too terrible to be fiction:

Dear Miss McDonald: I enjoy your column and delight in the problems of the boys and girls, particularly the ones who have boy friends who come and "jes' set." like the old lady "who sometimes set and think and sometimes jes' set." like the old lady "who sometimes set and think and sometimes jes' set." like the old lady with a time it would have been pleasanter to visit a theater or have dinner out with him than sit at home talking about nothing in particular. He'd come around Sunday night and tell me what a good time he'd had all day out at the club—but never suggested taking me out there to dinner.

By and by a real man appeared upon the, scene and liked me, so I was compelied to tell the "sitter" that the

By and by a real man appeared upon the scene and liked me, so I was compelled to tell the "sitter" that the new man was going to take me out to the theater and I told the sitter he might sit on the railing somewhere and see Cinderella go to the ball. And what do you suppose happened? He was very wrothy and said I ought to know that he was courting me and wanted to marry. How was I to know at hing like that about a man who sai and sat, never took me anywhere and just filled a dull Sunday night by resting by the fireplace with a bit of refreshment served by mother, so that we could bear up under the rest of the eventing!

He waked up too late. A man who takes a girl around, gives her something to eat, pays a compliment occasionally and makes her think she is somebody, has the swellest chance in the world of having that girl's love. overwhelming demand for the new-processed "STANDARD" Gasoline... thousands of motorists prove for themselves the superiority of this wonderful HIGH-TEST gasoline...

It's barely four weeks since we announced the new-processed "Standard" Gasoline. But in these four weeks thousands of motorists have bought AND TESTED this extraordinary fuel. They have written to us. They have talked to our pump men. They have even telephoned their local dealers.

They called its performance record "startling"—"the best yet"—"wonderful in traffic for women drivers"—"I pass everything on the road"—"a new lease of life for the old 1923 model"—"fine for cold mornings"—and so on.

ACRES AND ACRES of giant-sized seporators—running at full speed to give a higher yield of better, purer gasoline from the same amount of charging stocks. This is why new-processed "Standard" Gasoline sells at no extra price.

NO LAST DROPS. The outlet control on every "Standard" refinery storage tank is raised well above the ground to prevent the last few aplions in the tank from reaching your motor. Every precaution is used to preserve "Standard" purity.

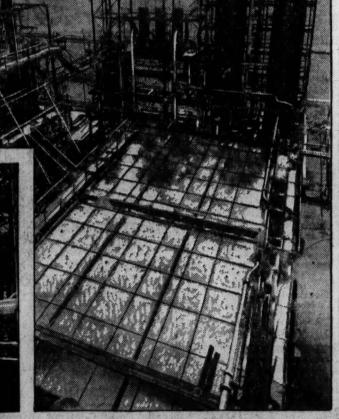

To meet the increasing demands of our enthusiastic and loyal friends, we have speeded up at the refinery. Speeded up our service at the pumps. Tried to make even more perfect than before our entire scheme of operations.

And in case you have not been fortunate enough to test for yourself this really superior gasoline, and watch it deliver the goods under any or all road and weather conditions, we ask you to do it today.

On sale everywhere. At no advance in price. At all "Standard" pumps.

WEEPING MUSE

3 Modern Industrialism about to deal the Art of Music the saddest blow of its history?

To blame Machinery as an Instrument of Decadence may seem startling, but it is true that Machinery in the form of Mechanical Music is elbowing Real Music out of motion picture theatres, thus denying to the masses the cultural influence of a Fine Art.

Surely, if machine-made music displaces the artists in thousands of instances, the incentive for any individual to improve his talent-so necessary in all art-is minimized and music can no longer hold the cultural value that it has possessed. Any art is dependent for its progress upon the number of its enthusiastic executants.

Do you, Mr. Reader, find the pleasure in Mechanical Music that you do in Real Music?

If you believe that Real Music should be saved to the masses who attend Motion Picture Theatres, make your opinion known to the manager of your favorite theatre. Very likely he will appreciate your frankness for he wants to please his patrons.

and to have it set there. It is not enough to supply lime in the food. A way must be found to have it poured into the bones. It is easy enough to lead the horse to water, but making him drink is another matter. When it comes to rickets the best agent for making the horse drink is irradiated ergosterol, sold under the official name viosterol and by other similiar names. These medicines are far more powerful than cod liver oil or even than sunlight. Their special field is rickets, but they may be of service in preventing the decay of teeth, in osteomalacia, in preventing cold and pneumonia. However, it has not been finally proved that the irradiated sterols are of paramount power to cure and prevent any one of these diseases except rickets.

But while welcoming a new remedy for the good it can do we must not lose sight of the possibilities of harm. These irradiated ergosterols are so powerful that they are dangerous. It has been proved that in large doses they kill. In small doses, long continued, they have produced plenty of pathology in lower animals. Pouring lime into tissues and having it set there is good for rickets and maybe for decaying teeth, but it is bad in some other conditions. It has been proved that setting lime in the wall of the sorte causes afterom of that artery, and this may cause aneurism, rupture of the artery, and angina pectoris. It causes Bright's disease of the kidneys, or something like it, and some calcification of the Liunga. All of these results have been proved to follow the administration of irradiated ergosterols for a considerable time in cases where it was not needed.

The process of aging has some resemblance to calcification of the tissues. It may be that the prolonged use of irradiated ergosterol in adults may hasten senility. That, however, is speculative. This much seems clear: Irradiated ergosterol, given to children in winter, is quite likely to dogood. It should not be given to adults, winter or summer unless there is some quite definite need for it.

I wonder why you have never tried to prevent this lumbage by finding the why of it and avoiding or removing it.

I wonder if you have grown to love it and are loath to give it up. Some cases of lumbage are easily avoided. Others are not.

Textile Officials To Cut Production

Output of Narrow Sheetings and Print Cloth Cut

Because of Depression.

Spartansburg, S. C., Nov. 12 (AP) Southern cotton mill executives, meeting here with George Sloan, of New York, president of the Cotton Textile Institute, agreed to reduce the production of narrow sheetings and print cloth in view of the presand print cloth in view of the present depressed market. The reduction agreed to was announced as a minimum of 37 per cent of the present output. The meeting was attended by 65 cotton mill executives representing 90,000 looms operated in the manufacture of print cloth and natrow sheetings. It was held in executive session and the only information given out was the following statement issued by Sloan:

"The discussion at the meeting developed a very general appreciation of the print cloths and marrow sheetings mills avoiding overproduction during the present business depression growing out of the unsettled condition in the present market and the other recent factors.

"Following the meeting practically every mill represented in attendance indicated their purpose, in view of the present financial emergency and consequent falling off in demand for cotton textiles, to make a substantial reduction in production.

"The announcements varied as to how this will be effected, but the minimum amount of reduction indicated will amount to approximately 27 per cent."

Preschool Treatment Is Urged by County School - Dentist.

ZONING HEARINGS FRIDAY

with Arlington County standing out as one of the leading counties in Virginia in health work, Dr. C. R. Boyland, county school dentist, demonstrated the value of the preschool dental clinic in the new Clarendon Health Center which was opened yesterday.

Dr. P. P. Chichester, health officer under whose direction all county health work is carried on, declared no greater service can be given by the department than the opening of the preschool dental clinic.

Coming to the county six years ago, Dr. Chichester atsated yeaterday that he then inaugurated the movement to atamp out in Arlington County diphtheria, and he declared that through the treatments which are now and have for the past fire years been given has almost stamped out the dreaded disease in the county. Pointing out the work of the health centers in the county, of which there are three, one in each district, Dr. Chichester said "that with the opening of the county schools the work which is begun in the clinics with the infant is carried on in the schools by the holding of regular inspections to see that all the children are in a healthy condition."

Dr. Chichester stated that the pre-to see that all the children are in a healthy condition."

Dr. Chichester stated that the preschool dental clinics are held in the health centers once each month, while the clinic for the infants in general is conducted twice a month. He declared that too much stress can not be placed on the importance of watching the child during the preschool period, and he urged all parents to take advantage of the service that the county is giving to the public free of charge.

The scavenger service, which for many years has been carried on by the county health department and which, according to the budget, has carried an annual appropriation of $25,000, for the first time shows this year that it has been self-supporting, showing receipts greater than the appropriation of the budget.

From a report given out yeaterday by County Engineer C. L. Kinnier, the total receipts show $26,803.57. Of this amount, Kinnier stated, there was still on the books $3,442.24 which is collectible. The expenditures of the department show a total of $23,085.40, making a profit of $2,720.17. Kinnier stated that the saving to the county has been the result of a reduction in the overhead expenses and the using of the teams in other departments for which the scavenger department has been given credit.

DESPERATE SELLING AGAIN HITS STOCKS

Dreams of Early Return to Normalcy Rudely Interrupted.

CALL FUNDS 6 PER CENT

New York. Nov. 12 (A.P.).—Well street's visions of a return to normal-cy in the stock market were shattered today by another spasm of desperate liquidation. More than, 100 issues plumbed new depths for the decline, as the volume of trading swelled to 6.482,770 shares for the three-hour session, nearly double yesterday's turnover, and unsurpassed in a trading period of like duration save for the total of 7.149,390 shares 'raded on October 31.

The day's break was less drastic, however, than the losses recorded during several days of the recent selling panie, and the bankers' consortium 181 that further emergency measures were uncalled for. Net losses in most leading shares ran from 2 to 20 points. But a few slightly traded issues showed spectacular drops. The decline was orderly, without reappearance of demoralized conditions on the floor. The ticker, however, was again helpless, running for two and a quarter hours after the close.

The downturn was undoubtedly hastened by the spilling overboard of large holdings by the breaking of thin margins in the sharp drop late yesterday.

Shorts Minor Factor.

Shorts Minor Factor.

Shorts Minor Factor.

Short seiling was again in large volume, but the leaden heaviness of the list indicated that shorts were a minor factor. A short interest huge enough to be regarded as a determining factor would at least have provided a cushion for the decline.

Most observers were inclined to regard the character of the selling as indicating that a huge amount of necessitous selling still hung over the market and were disinclined to make any predictions as to its probable ex-any predictions as to its probable extent. It was felt that the collapse of the market had been more far reaching in its consequences than had been at first realized, and the passing of stock from weakened to strong hands may take some time.

With this new fog of uncertainty gathering over the market, insurance companies and other large investors who quickly began to accumulate stocks after the first convulsions of liquidation, generally withdrew their support, and even foor tradgers who normally buy heavily for a turn were inclined to retire to the sidelines. Stocks Thought Absurdly Low.

While there was a widespread feeling that stocks are being reduced to ridiculously low levels, as measured by assets and current earnings, it appeared that the necessitous selling would have to be permitted to run its course.

would have to be permitted to run its course.

The extent of the burden which banks are assuming in carrying securities was indicated by the Federal Reservs Board's condition statement of weekly reporting member banks in leading cities as of November 6. During the week ended on that date, loans on securities declined $433,000,000. to $8.746,000,000, which was $1.715,000,000 above the level of a year ago. This is considerably less favorable than the report of loans to brokers placed through the New York member banks, for the week ended November 6, when such loans dropped $56,000,000. to $4.882,000,000, which was moderately below the level of a year ago.

Liberty bonds and Treasury certificates, after some irregularity early in the three-hour session, turned upward as the domestic corporation list weakened, and closing prices were near the highs for the year. The Treasury 3%s rose to a new top on a few sales. Corporations with large Aurplus funds, as well as institutions, were reported as buyers of the "Governments."

Beasoned ralls, offered in considerable volume, showed fractional declines in many issues, while losses of a point or more appeared in others. Among the latter were Erie 5s and general lien 4s, Indianapolis Union Rallway 5s, Missouri, Kanasa, Texas first 4s, New York Central 6s and refunding 5s, Nickel Plate 5½s, Lehigh Valley 4½s, Southern Rallway general 4s, St. Louis & San Francisco 4½s, and Union Pacific refunding 4s.

Convertibles and other share privilege obligations tumbled with the shares they represent. Public Service of New Jersey 4s went to the new low of 145 on a net decline of 4½. International Telephone 4½s at the closing quotation of 115 were below their previous minimum for the decline. American I. G. Chemical 5½s, 2; New Haven 6s, 2½, and Allegheny Corporation 5s of 1949, 2.

Attle resistance was apparent in the industrials and utilities. American Sheet & Tube 5s suffered losses averaging half a point, while Bethlehem Steel refunding 5s dropped 1½.

The Wealth of a Continent

Australia, your geography teacher used to tell you, is a continent which lies between the Indian and the Pacific Oceans. It has great natural resources, contains many large and every contains to the contains the c growing cities, and has one of the most progressive governments in the world. Its total wealth is now around $8,000,000,000.

Yet the equivalent of the entire wealth of this huge land was wiped out in one disastrous day on the New York Stock Exchange. Between $8,000,000,000 and $9,000,000,000 was automatically erased from the value of $80 stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange. The wealth of a continent wiped out!

Many people suffered irreparable loss on this day—October 29th. Hundreds of thousands of others suffered loss in varying degrees. There was only one class of investors who remained unaffected—those who had their money safely placed in sound, non-fluctuating securities—such securities as the 6% First Mortgage Notes offered through the Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Company.

Our clients have viewed calmly far worse panics in speculative stocks... they have seen the interest on their investment returned to them steadily, unfailingly, since the founding of this company more than sixty years agothrough all the widely varying conditions since 1869.

In all that time no investor has ever suffered a penny's loss.

In the continental United States, Alaska and Hawaii on October 4, last bank call date, showed aggregate resources of $37,924,310,000, exceeding by $454,082,000 those reported by 7,536 banks June 29, but $1,001,170,000 under those of 7,576 banks October 3, 1928, date of the corresponding call last year.

Comptroller or the Currency Pole's statement on latest call figures announced yesterday showed that deposits on October 4 aggregated $21,701,987,000, which was an increase of $303,909,000 alnos the date of the previous call, but a decrease of $1,103,314,000 in the year. Included in total deposits are balances due correspondent banks and bankers, and certified and cashlers' checks, &c., of $2,229,960,000, United States deposits of $10,2568,012,000, and time deposits, including postal savings, of $8,301,751,000. Included also with the aggregate of time deposits or $1,279,944,000 and deposits of deposit of $1,279,944,000 and deposits of $9,978,300,000, the latter fig-of deposit of $1.297,944.000 and deposits evidenced by savings passbooks of $5.978,300,000, the latter figure, which was represented by 15.-430;964 accounts, showing a reduction of, $111,337,000 since the date of the previous call, but an increase of $37,-701,000 in the year.

The aggregate liability for money bourowed on account of bills payable of, $412,454,000, and rediscounts of $245,118,000, a total of $657,572,000, was $56,935,000 less than in June of the current year and $50,000,000 less than reported a year ago. The percentage of loans and discounts to total deposits on October 4, 1929, was $63,91, compared with 68,53 on June 29, 1929, and 6,74 on October 3, 1928.

Savings in Capital Increase. Gains in savings for Washington banks were revealed yesterday in a regional saniyats of the drop in na-tional savings deposits in banks as amounced Monday by the American Bankers Association. While the anaounced Monday by the American Bankers Association. While the Monday report showed the first recession in national savings in 20 years, the analysis lasued yesterday by W. Espey Albig, deputy manager in charge of the association's savings bask division, announced the District of Columbia gained $4 per Inhabitain during the past statistical year. For the Middle Atlantic or local group of the analysis, which showed that all except the New England and Pacific States groups recorded losses, the statement indicates that this group usually turns in a tremendous Facilic States groups recorded losses, the statement indicates that this group usually turns in a tremendous gain in sayings. Last year the gain amounted to $36 per inhabitant, or $1. per cent over the previous year. This year it shows a loss of $48.612,000; or $2 per inhabitant, which is $5.10 of 1 per cent. New Jersey, Pennsylvanis and Maryland showed losses. The District of Columbia and Delaware showed gains. Even a gain of $65,000,000 in New York was overcome by losses in the group to the West and South.

"New York usually shows the greatest savings gain per inhabitant of any State or else is nosed out only by Massachusetts. Last year New York is gain over the preceding year was $49, this year it is only $6, alphough the average deposit per inhabitant the beginning of the year was $616, on which the interest at only $ per cent would have been over $24.

Virginia Loses 90,000.

"Virginia, which last year had the eatest number of savings depositors "any Southern State, sustained as of almost 90,000.

of any Southern State, sustained a loss of almost 90,000.

"New Jessey's loss is $24 per inhabitant, Pennsylvania's $5. Maryisnd's $6; the District of Columbia gained $4 to an inhabitant and Delawire $7. The losses of the group for the year, however, were greater than the gains so that the Middle Atlantic States showed a recession of $4 per inhabitant. This in effect inhabitant that the capital sum of almost $12,000,000,000 in savings deposits that the capital sum of almost $12,000,000,000 in savings deposits $12,000,000,000 in savings deposits in banks at the beginning of the year was reduced and that the interest on this amount was withdrawn from the banks.

"In New York State savings deposits increased by more than half a million and increases were also register—det.in New Jersey, the District of Columbia and Delaware. Pennsylvania suffered a loss of more than 50,000 depositors and Maryland followed with a loss of over 33,000. The de-depositors and Maryland followed with a loss of over 33,000. The decrease in deposits in New Jersey did not prevent an increase of over 46,000 depositors in that State. This large gain together with that of New York State enabled the Middle Atlantic group, although suffering a

Curb Review

New York, Nov., 12 (A.P.)—As weeping decline in prices took place on the New York Curh Exchange today as weakened speculative holdings were thrown overboard. Net declines in most of the active shares were held to 9 points or less, but a sprinkling of ordinarily inactive specialties broke 8 to 28 points.

Scores of issues sank to new low levels for the year, with closing quotations generaly showing little recovery from the day's low levels. So great was the volume of trading that the ticker fell steadily behind the market, and never caught up. The day's sales were 2,204,700 shares, or nearly double those of yesterday.

Public utilities again bore the brunt of the selling pressure. Standard Power & Light dropped 35 points on a few sales. American Gas & Electric fell 25 points to a new low at 70, and then railled to 73, which contrasts with the year's high of 244%, Duke Power fell 14½ points, American & Foreign Power warrants, Electric Bond & Share, Associated Gas & Electric A, and Electric Power Associates lost 5 to 8½ points.

Olis also were hard hit. Guif, Humble, Indian Territorial, Vacuum and Standard Oll of Ohlo lost 4 to 7¼ points. Cosden Oil preferred dropped 18 points on a small turnover.

Investment trust, trading and holding company stocks showed several points of weakness. Fourth National Investors, Goldman Sachs Trading. New York, Nov., 12 (A.P.) -A sweep-

More Field Goal Kicking

Mr. Hall said more field-goar kicking has come to his attention this year than at any time in the past three or four seasons. This, he said, is probably due to development of a better-rounded attack and more at'tention by coaches to the importance of being able to produce a good dropkick or placement on the frequent occasions when that is the only logical play.

Navy Earns Post in G. U. Back Field.

Bozek Handicapped By

Bozek Handicapped By Sore Shoulder.

A sore shoulder handicapped Bozek considerably in the Navy game, and he will be far from best condition against West Virginis, but the fact remains that Bozek failed to redeem his promise of becoming the outstanding back on the Hilltop squad and his replacement by Leary will give Georgetown a better rounded offense, Little believes.

Leary's entrance into the regular Georgetown back field is, in fact, a reentrance. At the start of the season and previously at the training camp at Wildwood, N. J., Leary appeared to have won the quarter back position from Scalzi, Gardner, Emil Bozek and the remainder of the aspirants, but, with the season under way, his work as quarter back became apotty, and Scalzi won the berth beyond question.

WRITE FOR PROOF TO THE AUTHOR

IN DRILLS Lexington, Ky., Nov. 12 (A.P.) .-Interested in reports of a proposal from the American Legion of Los Angeles, that the University of Booth and Wittmer Kentucky Wildcats meet St. Mary's College, of Oakland, Calif., in an Are Held Out of intersectional game at Los Angele Christmas Day, Athletic Director S. A. Boles wired today for a finan-Scrimmage.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (A.P.).—
Much work remains to be donebefore Mal Stevens and Bill and Princeton football varsities, but neither is taking any chances with their star back-field men, Albie Booth and Ed Witmer.

The Yale first team indulged in a twenty-minute scrimmage with the scrubs today, but Booth, slightly injured in the Maryland game, was not used in the line-up. Neither were Hall and Ellis, back-field men.

A long defensive practice found the scrubs using Princeton plays to good advantage against the first-string team. Efforts will be made during the rest of the week to develop a satisfactory defense for Tiger formations.

At Princeton, Bill Roper put his charges through a long workout on teakling forward nearing teams. It was estimated that it would cost about $10,000 to send the Kentuckians to the coast, and if the committee in charge of the game will guarantee that much and a slice of the gate, and if permission of the Southern Confer-ence to play in a post-season game is granted, Kentucky will accept, it is understood.

There was a shift in riders from Workman to F. Coltiletti. Workman was unable to do the weight and the Italian rider was substituted in his place. When the barrier was sprung Coin Collector was off flying and Coltiletti let him step right along. Chatover, who broke from the exterme outside, was steered in the middle of the track. Despite this he moved up with a good burst of speed and caught and passed Coin Collector on the back stretch. Coltiletti then took the latter in hand, Chatover still continued out in the middle of the track. Going to the half-mile pole, Coltiletti sent Coin Collector up with a good burst of speed and, taking the lead again rounding the far turn, retained it to the finish. In the stretch run Coin Collector was under punishment all the last furlong. At the end he was a length and a half in front of Fair Beth, who, in turn, beat Turf Writer three lengths for the place. the band of platers that went to the position the first race. This was a dash of a mile and a sixteenth for which Rejuvenation was favorite.
This erratic son of Hourless ran as he usually does when he is at a short price. He was never a factor.
Home Like was the one to make the early pace and he led until rounding the far turn where Listerine cought and passed him.

As they swung into the home stretch Listerine began drawing away and at the end she had a lead of two lengths over the tiring Home Like who lasted long enough to beat Banton a length for the place. Searington, who began very slowly came through next the rail in the stretch run and at the end was going very atrong. Rejuvenation was last but one. The only horse he beat was Tom Kanty.

Score another for the W. J. Salmon Stable. In the running of the second race, Snow Flake, a daughter of Mad Hatter, carried the New York sportsman's colors to victory when she came from behind in the atretch run to overhaul the tiring Hacky H.
At the end Snow Flake won going away by one length. The field was well balanced one and several of the starters came in for strong suppoort. Parnell Bound, top weight, was a receding favorite.

G Hitting on all six with no signs of a breakdown. Picking winners either on a fast or Latonia and Pimlico, is just like playing the "wick-troia." Ye'wekkum.

SEARCHER is the real jammy goods of the day. Goes in the sixth race in Maryland and has just enough opposition to bolster up the price. Had old Display driving the other afternono, and this is a pretty good line to go by. Let the two slugs ride right smack-jam on the old beezer.

DIAVOLO is the system horse play. Has been dropped in one of those distance affairs and is due to just roll home. DISPLAY may prove the contender, but is hardly good enough to furnish a real argument.

SWINFIELD is another probable winner. This

SWINFIELD is juvenile is just a trifle better than rated. Is running against his own class and seems to be in a set up.
VILLAGER, PAULA L. and BEELZEBUB will be hard to beat in their respective races.

And now for old Latonia. Little COLONEL was withdrawn on Tuesday for a soft spot in the third. a dash of 6 furiongs. Looks as though he could fall down, roll over and then get up in time to win.

Another special is NOR'EASTER.
Trainer Goose is taking the Camden racer out of sprints and sending him over a route. This is merely to get a price. A word to the wise is just like a kick in the pants.

For the feature race, don't be a bit surprised if GALLANT KNIGHT, a 2vear-old, takes the measure of older opponents.

Donnay and Mowlee Ready For Stakes on Bowie Card Draws Field

THE 2-year-olds Khars and Capture, of the Rancocas Stable, appear to be out of training for the remainder of the season of 1929, but John Lowe will have two genuinely good horses for the twelve days racing that will begin at Prince Georges Park, Bowie, next Monday, in the 3-year-old Donnay and the 4-year-old Mowlee.

Donnay, a son of Donnaconna and Kinannah, has been one of the most successful horses of any age that has appeared in Maryland since the beginning of the fall season at Havre de Grace, September 20. He has won twice at Pimlico, twice at Laurel and sonce at Havre de Grace. He prefers muddy going, but not even the best sprinters can take undue liberties with him on fast tracks. Saturday, he trimmed Chianti, Sun Broom, Pegg's Pride, Pennant Lass and Dance on a fast track, after running Balko to a length and beating Princess Tina and Too High Thursday.

$10,000 Race Of Four

Display Chief Rival of Diavolo in Distance Event, Says Collins.

By LEONARD W. COLLINS.

By LEONARD W. COLLINS.

WHILE but four have been named overnight to face the barrier in the 3½ miles of the $10,000 Pimileo Cup, the Maryland Jockey Club's getaway-day feature, this afternoon's eleventh renewal of this exacting test of thoroughbred courage, stamina and speed may develop into the best racing spectacle the stake has enjoyed since the days when Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Exterminator and Commander J. K. L. Ros' Boniface were making turi history.

Antepost favoritism leans heavily to the Wheatley Stable's distant running champion, Diavolo, yet the sensational form displayed by Walter J. Salmon's Display in his last twe starts may or may not presage trouble for the son of Whisk Broom H. Diavolo is conceding 2 years in again 12 pounds in weight to the Fair Play Horse, yet students of the Baltimor trained colt when at his best car give the time and poundage to the Salmon color bearer. However, the are also agreed that if Display run back to his race in the Baltimor Handicap, Diavolo may find keens competition than anticipated. The other two entrants, African an William T, are being given but sligh consideration.

ORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 12. The West Virginia University Football Team, with victories over Wesleyan, Wash-Lee and the Oklahoma Aggies, which are more than counterbalanced by losses to Davis-Elkins, Pitt, Detroit, and ties with Duquesne and Fordham, is determined to wind up the 1929 grid season by defeating Georgetown and W. & J. in the remaining games on the schedule.

The annual West Virginia day class has a tirred the Mountaineers to the depths. Realizing that a victory over the powerful Georgetown Team at Washington next Saturday should do much to wipe out the sting of defeat and the string of bad breaks which have pursued them in several games, the Mountaineer gridders are ready to battle as never before this season.

MARYLAND SEES TASK IN HALTING SPEAR OF V. P. I.

Spear Ran Through Virginia Team for 4 Touchdowns.

Tackles Present Only Problem to Byrd With 4 Available.

ARYLAND'S football team, after a day of rest, got down to brass tacks yesterday in preparing for the game with Virginia Poly at Norfolk Saturday.

All of the Old Liners, including Buck Miller and Augle Roberts, fleet ball toters and kickers, the only two men to be hurt in the game with Yale, took part in the drill. Both were as chipper as they were before seeing action against the Elis.

Coach Curley Byrd is not going a give his men a great deal of hard work prior to taking the boat for Norfolk Friday evening, as he feels that the players had much taken out of them in the grueling tie battle with Yale. There may be one short scrimmage during the week for the leading players, but that will be all Albie Booth, of Yale, may have a bigger reputation, but the Old Liners feel that they will have just about as hard a task stopping Phil Spear. There is little debate over the Maryland line-up for the clash with the Gobblers, except as to the tackles. Lombard and Carlis may start or Fisher and Ribnitzki may get the assignment. All four are doing good work and afford the Old Liners fine strength in these important positions. In fact, in the Yale game Coach Byrd held Lombar and Carlis alongside of him on the bench until he could size up the Eli tactics. Then he sent both of them in early in the second quarter.

Coaches Andy Gustafson and Lee Trank are looking for more drive in the line and had the first and second array of forwards take frequent turns at the heavy charging machine. The Poly mentors were not sholly satisfied with the line performance against Vignia, particularly in the opening quarter, and mean to have these huskies fighting from the initial kick-off in the annual Tidewater clash with the Old Jiners.

Fearing injury to Hooper, Tomko, McEver, Spear and company on the treacherous footing of the practice field, the coaches called off the regular Tuesday scrimmage for the first time this fall. With these boys at the high tide of their drive in catting Virginia, they will be guarded against injury all week.

And it was only right that Hinkle, who had led somewhat unimpressive Central offense through out the game, should have been responsible for the winning margin. VIRGINIA DUE SOPHOMORES TO SHIFT BACKS

Made for Sloan Against W. & L.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 12.
Undaunted by the defeat austained at the hands of the strong Virginia Poly Eleven last Saturday, the members of the Virginia squad are hard at work in preparation for the game to be played with Washington and Lee Saturday in Lexington.

quarter back in the contest with the Generals.

Hunter Faulconer started at quarter back against the Gobblers last Saturday, with Bill Thomas and Herbert Bryant as half backs, and Albert Lewy at full back. When the Virginia captain went into the contest during the second quarter he replaced Faulconer.

Just what combination of backs will be used against Washington and Lee is not certain. The skill of Thomas, both as a ball carrier and as a punter has probably earned him a place as regular and he and Sloan appear to be sure starters this weekend.

Lewy's All-round Work Earna Him Post.

Earns Him Post.

If Gus Kaminer is back in shape for the game with the Generals, it will make a quadrangular competition for the other two places behind the line. Lewy's defensive ability and his knack of blocking on offense appear to give him an entry into the position of full back.

An athletic holiday has been declared at the university next Saturday in order that the students may travel to Lexington to attend the game.

A special train will go from Charlottesville by way of Staunton, and will reach Lexington in time for the morning game between Virginia Military Institute and the University of Kentucky. Virginia's varsity squad will ride over in a special car attached to this train.

The double-header between Cadeta and Wildcats in the morning and Generals and Cavaliers in the aftermoon is expected to draw a record-breaking crowd.

Regular Place to Be Conference Overrun With Young Gridiron Sensations.

By EDDIE BRIETZ

A TLANTA, Ga., Nov. 12 (A.P.).—
Not since the Southern Conference was formed has it sported such a brilliant collection of sophosuch a brilliant collection of sopho-more stars as is sparkling in the foot-ball firmament this season.

With almost every team improved and with the conference as a whole stronger and more evenly matched than ever, most of the fire and punch is being supplied by first year varsity men.

is being supplied by first year varsity men.

Some coaches are having to depend almost entirely on juveniles. Georgia, the early season sensation, has a team full of them and Vanderblit and Kentucky, two of the most powerful machines in the group, are liberally sprinkled with colts.

None of the youngsters has given a better account of himself than Vernon (Catish) Smith, the Georgia end He has been outstanding in almost every game the Bulldogs have played and is one of the few sophomores virtually certain to crash the all-Southern.

other comers on the Vandy Squad.
Leonard is the best bet.

The star of the Kentucky crop is Shipwreck Kelly, 147-pound back.
They call him a real find. He kicks, passes and runs and is the spark plug of the Wild Cat Team.

The Phipps brothers, both backs;
Andrews and Myers, quarters, and Wright, tackle, all sophomores, are playing regularly for Kentucky.

North Carolina offers Branch and Slusser, a pair of nifty back field speed merchants, and Gilbreth, a center.
Virginia has a real threat in Bill Thomas, a half back, who is leading the three vterans in the back field in scoring.

the three vierans in the back field in scoring.

Bowman and Butler, chief touch-down manufacturers at Louisiana State, are first-year men and so are Khoury, a big guard, and Fleming, end. Coach Billy Laval, of South Carolina, has a flock of real comers, among them Rhame and Culp, backs, and Laval, Hughey and De Vaughan, linemen.

(Associated Press.)

PHIL SPEAR, of Polytech, who has been edging toward the front rank of Virginis backs since early in the season and who reached a climax Saturday by scoring four of V. P. I.'s five goals, gets an opportunity this week of taking the ego out of Maryland after the Old Liners came from behind Booth's 13-point margin and tied Yale last Saturday. Spear's phenomenal burst against Virginia made fans forget that the Cavaliers tallied a pair of touchdowns in the first quarter, while the whole Tech team was dormant.

Billy Gooch, director of athletics a William and Mary, says that if his suggestion gets official approval, mem-bers of the Indian football squad in 1930 will be ineligible for dates with the "Marys"—Williamsburg coeds— until after Thanksgiving.

Graydon, Georgia Tech back, shows plenty of promise. Mattox, the only sophomore on the Washington and Lee Team, gets better every week. Virginia Poly is using three sophomores in its forward vall and Virginia Military can't keep Wright, a full back, out of the line-up, although there is a veteran in every other position with two or three in reserve.

V. M. I. RATES KENTUCKY HIGHLY

Rough Work Meted Squad for Hard Battle Saturday.

Recial to The Washington Post.

Lexington, Va., Hov. 12.—This V. M. I. Flying Squadron made it seven games out of eight for the season Saturday in reversing less year's score to defeat Clemson at Norfolk, 12 to 0. The Cadeta refused to let Josh Cody's Tigers get under way, while aprucing up their own air attack enough to put Al Hawkins and Tommie Scott across the line with two of Johnnie Biggs' tosses.

Coaches Raftery, Hess and Binish are now ready to point the Equadron for the home-coming battle, feeling that Kentucky's defeat by Alabams will make the Wild Cats all the harder to get along with. Coach Harry Gamage will probably be able to muster the full strength of a powerful squad against the Cadets, and V. M. L. coaches and players are looking forward to one of the hardest tests of the year Saturday morning.

With only a few bruises and some muscle soreness as souvenirs of the Norfolk clash, the Cadets took a light workout Monday morning after returning from Norfolk on the V. M. I. special. Today's workout was much more strenuous, with liberal doses of rough work for those who did not play the full game against the Tigers.

Scrimmage for one and all is on the Wednesday program, with the Freshman team slated to furnish the opposition using Kentucky plays. The yearlings dropped a tight game to the William and Mary youngsters Friday night, and have an open date Saturday before meeting the V. P. I. Gobblets.

The V. M. I.-Kentucky and Washington and Lee-Virginia double-

Virginia teams figure in nineteer football games still to be played. Six of the total are Southern Conference, battles. November 18 three S. I. C. meets will be played and three more are scheduled for Thanksgiving Day, November 28. Only one of the Thanksgiving S. I. C. games will be played in Virginia—the V. M. I.-V. P. Virginia goes down to Chapel Hill to close the seadown to Chapel Hill to close the seadown against Carolina, and Washington against Carolina, and Washington and Lee heads far South to Jacksonville to wind up against Florida. of the total are Southern Conference

It's just too bad if any smoker because of misinformation denies himself or herself the pleasure of CAMELS.

New smokers are not always in a position to have a real preference in cigarettes. But when they acquaint themselves with Camels they develop that sense of discrimination that leads to real smoking pleasure. Camels are made so carefully and of so good a blend of choicest cigarette tobaccos that even those with inexperienced smoking taste quickly recognize their superiority. They are for those who appreciate the taste of choice tobaccos, the fragrance of a perfect blend and the soothing mellowness of a really satisfying cigarette.

More About the Microscope.

A MBER is a kind of gum, or resin, hardened by nature long ago. Beds of amber are found now-adays, hard and firm. Once upon a time that amber was about as sticky and soft as molasses.

years. These insects are different from those which live today.

In a mime in Europe a piece of amber was found which contained a speck about the size of a pinhead. A man looked at the "speck" through a microscope and saw the figure of a fity. This fly was colored in a beautiful manner—with tints of gold, red, blue, and green.

By means of the microscope, people can study animals and see how they are made. The skin of your hand would be an interesting object to look at under the lens.

I once studied a frog's foot under a microscope. I was able to see blood coursing through the tiny blood vessels in the web. The frog was alive, of course, and although I held him gently enough he did not seem to enjoy being studied—he wanted to go hopping away.

Pollahing powder which is used for metal seems to be very fine, indeed, but gaze at it through a lens and it may remind you of chunks of coal.

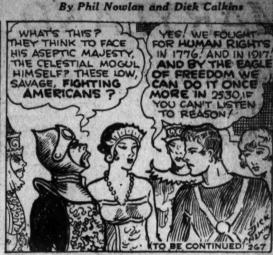

You have, no doubt, looked at a razor blade and thought of its sharpness. The edge seems to be a very straight line; but look at it through a high powered glass, and what do you see? A rasged edge, very much on the order of the cutting edge of a saw. Try looking at a razor blade when you have the chance to a piece of the cutting edge of

NOTE NAMING MAN DEAD OF POISONING

Body of Marie McDermott Is Found by Friends in Her Apartment.

FAREWELL MESSAGE POINTS TO SUICIDE

Autopsy Reveals Corrosive in Stomach; Plasterer Sought by Police.

The body of Miss Marie McDermott, year-old clerk of the General Land

Office. Department of the Interior, was found yesterday on the floor of her tiny apartment at the Ripley, 1424 R street northwest, following an investigation by friends and the police into her absence since Friday from her office. There were blood stains on the floor.

A farewell note on a nearby table led police to believe that the death probably was suicide, but an examination of the body and the apartment failed to produce any evidence of how Miss McDermott came to her death. Coroner J. Ramsay Nevitt ordered the body removed to the morgue and an autopay performed. Deputy Coroner Joseph Rogers held the autopay on the woman's body last night, and announced that he found in her stomach some corrosive poison which, because of the high state of decomposition, he was unable to classify. Pending further investigation by the police, Coroner Nevitt is undecided whether or not he will order an inquest. ce, Department of the Interior

Farewell Note Found.

The farewell note, addressed to friends and enemies" slike, indicated despondency dver an unfortunate love fair and named a man for whom he police are searching for questions. The note was brief, starting with "good-by" to friends, enemies and he nam named, and then concluded with a scorching denunciation of the atter.

with a scorening demunciation of the latter.

"You put my soul in hell because I loved you, but you are a brute and a beast, and I'll meet you in hell, where you sent me," were the closing lines over the signature "Marie."

The apartment was in good order, and there was no sign of a struggle. A small electric bulb was burning in the reception hall of the apartment, and the day bed in the living room apparently had been occupied, lending probability to a theory that the woman came to her death at night, although her body was fully clothed, even to neckiese and wrist watch.

Last Seen Alive Friday,

ording to Lieut. Hugh H. Grove suited in the finding of her body, Miss McDermott was last at the General Land Office on Friday and had made no application for leave. A woman friend, who came to this city with Miss McDermott during the World War to join the Government's forces of women workers, yesterday called at Miss McDermott's apartment in company with Charles R. Drexillur, and Henry D. Billings, coworkers at the General Land Office, to ascertain-why she had not been to work, and when they received no response, made en they received no response, made uiry of the janitor, Joseph B. But-

Miss McDermott for a week, and the woman friend then got in touch with Lieut. Groves, who is understood also to have known her. Visiting the apartment, Lieut. Groves sought out Butler and together they went to a rear fire escape and peered into a window of Miss McDermott's apartment and saw her body attracted face. ent and saw her body stretched face wnward upon the floor. They im-ediately put in a call for the fire scue squad and an ambulance.

The janitor of the building told Lieut. Joseph Morgan, chief of the homicide squad, that Miss McDermott had lived at the apartment for about three years and had always been pleasant and quiet. He said that for some time she had been keeping company with a man whom he understood was a plasterer by trade and who called at the apartment about once a week. He identified the name contained in the letter as that of her caller. He had not seen Miss McDermott nor the man for approximately a week, however. Miss McDermott, it is understood, came to Washington from Honesdale, Pa., and police are endeavoring to locate relatives there.

Maj. C. S. McReynolds, of Washington, Is Killed by Nicaraguans.

Official notification of the death Monday in Managus, Nicaragua, of Maj. Charles S. McReynolds, Washington Marine Corps officer; as a result of builet wounds inflicted by Nicaraguan natives, was received yesterday by the Navy Department.

Details of the fatal shooting are to be sent to the Navy Department upon the completion of an inquest and investigation ordered by Brig. Gen. Dion Williams, commanding, although it is understood that Maj. McReynolds was shot in a personal altercation and not a result of any anti-American feeling.

Maj, McReynolds is survived by his widow, Mrs. Nettle McReynolds, and two sons, John, 13 years old, and William, 11, who live at 3735 R street northwest. They were advised of Maj. McReynolds' death by a fellow officer stationed at Marine Headquarters here. Maj. McReynolds was a native of Newton, Ill., but had long resided in Washington, where he was well known.

provincial synod of Washington in Harrisburg. Pa., recently, was composed of three bishops, three presbyters, three laymen and three members of the woman's auxiliary. The resolution read in part:
"That while we pledge ourselves to do our best toward meeting the apportionments of the national council in our respective dioceses and trust that the quota will be fully met, yet we respectfully request that if there be a deficiency in any year that the necessary reductions be made in other departments than the department of missions, so that as far as possible the budget for the department of missions, as adopted by the general convention be maintained.
"That this special committee herewith respectfully requests and urges upon all the members of the Province of Washington to do their utmost to meet the present deficit that menaces so seriously the church's missionary work."

The committee, named to "suggest such remedies as seem best to them for arousing and enlisting larger support for the missionary work of the church." is composed of the following:
